HOJA DE TRABAJO 6

LECTURA DE COMPRENSION

Lea cuidadosamente la siguiente adaptación de la fábula "El león y el elefante", y luego conteste las preguntas que se le hacen.

THE LION AND THE ELEPHANT

All the animals accepted the Lion, without dispute, as their king. He was strong and brave, and beautiful, a really superb animal. But they could not understand why the Lion would always prefer the company of the Elephant to that of all the other animals. One day, while the Lion and the Elephant were on a hunting trip, the other animals held a meeting to discuss the matter.

The Fox, who had the fame of being smart, was the first to speak: "I cannot understand the Lion's preference for that heavy, clumsy, unattractive Elephant. I could understand it if the Elephant had a bushy tail like mine, beautiful and elegant".

"Well", said the bear, who didn't care about fashion, "if the Elephant had sharp, strong claws such as mine, I would clearly see the reason for his preference, but he doesn't, and I don't know why the Lion likes his company for hunting".

"Those awful tusks he has, so graceless", and added the Bull, "if he had horns as beautiful as I have, everybody would know why the Lion always invites him".

"No, no, you are all wrong", argued the Donkey, "any dumb creature can easily see that the only reason why the Elephant is the favorite is because he has long ears like mine".

"How silly these animals are", commented the Duck to his wife, "but if they can't quack, what good can you expect from them?" With these words he signaled his wife to accompany him, and they both left in disgust over the foolishness of the other animals.
